Where RESEARCH MEETS INNOVATION

At Mizzou, we are not just a university but an interdisciplinary community of scholars, research innovators and leaders.

Our consistently top-ranked nursing school cultivates world-class nurses, educators and researchers and is part of the university's academic health center. Our faculty exhibit high scholarly productivity among nursing schools at research universities with 18 Missouri faculty and emeriti faculty currently designated as fellows in the American Academy of Nursing.

Verna Rhodes Endowed Chair in Nursing

Be the first Rhodes Endowed Chair, following in the steps of a pioneer in oncology nursing research who had an international impact on symptom management.

We are seeking a talented nurse scientist with an established, extramurally funded research program whose interests align with the MU's NextGen Precision Health Initiative and complements our strengths in team science with a focus on cancer care continuum, digital health and technology, healthy aging and/or rurality.

Individuals with a desire to lead interdisciplinary center and/or training grants and provide mentorship to faculty, postdoctoral fellows and students are encouraged to apply. Position open until filled.

Join Our Tenure/Tenure-Track Research and Teaching

We offer opportunities to launch careers for talented early-stage investigators seeking a highly collaborative and supportive research and teaching environment.

MizzouForward

Be part of our award-winning research and faculty
Deadline to apply for this fall: Oct. 20, 2024

MizzouForward is the boldest investment in our history and aims to elevate and promote the University of Missouri as one of the best research universities in the nation.

Our efforts and investment to increase faculty excellence will provide additional support and collaboration for the Sinclair School of Nursing faculty.
